SOCIAL SCIENCE

Exploring Family Studies HIF 101 (OPEN)

Études de la Famille HIF 10F – FRENCH IMMERSION – this course is one of ten compulsory French Immersion Courses.

This course explores, within the context of families, some of the fundamental challenges people face: how to meet basic needs, how to relate to others, how to manage resources, and how to become responsible members of society. Students will explore adolescent development and will have opportunities to develop interpersonal, decision-making, and practical skills related to daily life. They will learn about the diverse ways in which families function in Canada and will use research skills as they explore topics related to individual and family needs and resources.

Prerequisite: None

Food and Nutrition HFN 201 (OPEN)

This course focuses on guidelines for making nutritious food choices. Students will investigate factors that influence food choices, including beliefs, attitudes, current trends, traditional eating patterns, food-marketing strategies, and individual needs. Students will also explore the environmental impact of a variety of food choices at the local and global level. The course provides students with opportunities to develop food-preparation skills and introduces them to the use of social science research.

Prerequisite: None

Raising Healthy Children HPC 301 (OPEN)

This course focuses on the skills and knowledge parents, guardians, and caregivers need, with particular emphasis on maternal health, pregnancy, birth, and the early years of human development (birth to six years old). Through study and practical experience, students will learn how to meet the developmental needs of young children, communicate with them, and effectively guide their early behaviour. Students will develop their research skills through investigations related to caregiving and child rearing.

Prerequisite: None

Introduction to Anthropology, Psychology, and Sociology HSP 3C1 (COLLEGE)

This course introduces students to theories, questions, and issues related to anthropology, psychology, and sociology. Students learn about approaches and research methods used by social scientists. Students will be given opportunities to apply theories from a variety of perspectives, to conduct social science research, and to become familiar with current issues within the three disciplines. (May be combined with HSP3U1)

Prerequisite: None

Introduction to Anthropology, Psychology, and Sociology HSP 3U1 (UNIVERSITY) HSP 3MF (FRENCH IMMERSION UNIVERSITY/COLLEGE)

This course provides students with opportunities to think critically about theories, questions, and issues related to anthropology, psychology, and sociology. Students will develop an understanding of the approaches and research methods used by social scientists. They will be given opportunities to explore theories from a variety of perspectives, to conduct social science research, and to become familiar with current thinking on a range of issues within the three disciplines. (Possibly offered through e-learning for 2019-2020) - May be combined with HSP 3C1. Prerequisite: ENG 2D1 or CHC 2D1

Challenge and Change in Society HSB 4U1 (UNIVERSITY)

This course focuses on the use of social science theories, perspectives, and methodologies and investigate and explain shifts in knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, and behavior and their impact on society. Students will critically analyze how and why cultural, social, and behavioural patterns change over time. They will explore the ideas of social theorists and use those ideas to analyze causes of and responses to challenges such as technological change, deviance, and global inequalities. Students will explore ways in which social science research methods can be used to study social change. (Possibly offered through e-learning for 2019-2020).

Prerequisite: Any university or university/college preparation course in social sciences and humanities, English or Canadian and world studies.

Personal Life Management HIP 401 (OPEN)

This course focuses on preparing students for living independently and working successfully with others. Students will learn to manage their personal resources to meet their basic needs for food, clothing and housing. They will also learn about their personal, legal and financial responsibilities and develop and apply interpersonal skills in order to make wise and responsible personal and occupational choices. Students will apply research and inquiry skills while investigating topics related to personal life management. The course emphasizes the achievement of expectations through practical experiences. Prerequisite: None
